possible, not in a regular camp-ground, because of the expense, because I hate those places, and because I dislike being conspicuous from the fact that I have neither tent nor camper. So I drive around these little dirt roads trying to find a place to pull my car off where I will be secluded enough so that I won't be questioned by the police (as has happened to me sometimes in the past). Sometimes it is difficult or impossible. Another thing that makes the trip miserable is the fact that the car (Dave's car, which I am using) has been having trouble, and I've been having to get it fixed more than once. It wouldn't be so bad if I knew there are a where I can find what I want. The main problem is to avoid 80, 68, 4, 40, 86, 91, 31, 30, 98, 4, 9, 34, 63, 22, 38, 45, 59, 95. I've not had success trying to get information about what areas are free of 91, 61, 80, 74, 56.

Thus I have to drive around blind, so to speak, and investigate different places personally. I've had to be cautious about making inquiries concerning what areas are free of 34, 3, 39, 46, 95, 5, 3, 36, 26, 49, 90, 80, 25, 14, 21, 28, 39, 29, 46, 88, 6, 67, 79, 43, 78, 88, because I have 41, 54, 53, 51, 48, 60, 61, 92, 40, 33, 25, 71. 87, 79, 81, 72, 87, 44,, 41, 47, 18, 3, 21, 13, 40, 3, 8, 74, 60, 65, 72, 16, 60, 48, 39, 49, 90, 64, 91, 46, 12, 67, 71, 44, 55, 64, 8, 35, 36, 4, 64, 99, 51, 67, 61, 33, 62, 26, 28, 0!

June 29, 1980. My brother has a weak, flaccid personality, and I have no respect for him. His ideology of "Art" is based on self-deception, and is quite imitative, in spite of the fact that (like most who latch onto that ideology) he claims to abhor imitation. On the other hand, I have a real affection for him. Thus, my feelings toward him tend to waver between affection and contempt.

Vol III p. 261: "The principal business of the [Russian] sylvan spirits is to guard the forest. They do not allow people to whistle or shout there..."

Vol. IV p. 177: "A forest spirit resembling the Russian Lěšiy is the Eastern Lapps' Miehts-hozjin ("the Master of the forest")... When anyone shouts, sings or makes a noise in the forest, he becomes offended, and bewilders the culprit so that he cannot find his way out of the forest. The "Master of the forest" loves silence above all."

are value-judgements, but the assertions that I made about why some people worship Art and Philosophy are statements of a factual character.)

I am not taking any stand as to whether or not ~~the~~ there is more diversity (on significant points [what I would consider significant]) in our society than in New Guinea — I am merely sneering at the importance that Maggie Mead ascribes (by implication) to the particular points of diversity that she listed.

Maggie Mead only stayed a few months with those people. She claims that was enough, but one wonders how well she could have really got to know them in that length of time. Her opinion of their comparative uniformity may be a case of "all coons look alike to me". Or maybe not. I don't claim to know. Of course it is very probable that there is more diversity in our society if you take people from widely different backgrounds (say a ghetto nigger and ~~a professor~~ an upper middle class type) than what ordinarily occurs between two individuals in a New Guinea village. But it's not so clear if you restrict attention to a particular class in our society (say upper-middle-class-~~boss~~ businessmen).

Sept. 15, 1980. Shortly after getting back to Montana after spending the greater part of a year working in the Chicago area, I reported in my notes that I no longer had the powerful desire for women that had troubled me while I was living among people. That was correct, and I am still untroubled by any strong sexual desire. Furthermore, I now look with a certain amount of disgust not only on the desire for sexual love that I experienced while at Chicago, but also on the other social feelings that I then experienced, mainly toward my co-workers at Prince Castle. Perhaps those feelings were partly due to my brief infatuation with that Ellen Bitch. Be that as it may, it is better to have cool, detached feelings toward people. Stronger feelings do have their pleasures, but they tend to be enslaving; they infringe on one's autonomy. While having those feelings I looked back with a kind of nostalgia to the psychological autonomy and (so to speak) purity that I'd had in the mountains. Now, back in relative solitude, I am somewhat repelled by the memory of my social feelings.

I passed close to a male spruce grouse which had been resting on the ground, sitting flat on its belly. It moved slowly away, watching me dubiously. When I got close enough, I stood and watched 4,39,4,31,59, 11,56,82, 49,27,58,11,38, 91,98, 23,68,24, 3,42,50,99,5,60,80,11,, 6,31,30,38,1,18,41,30, 37,42,68. 75,24, 82,13,38, 70, 55,92,67,50,44, 20,15, 82,0,87,38, 71,11,80,90,76,18,67,28,43, 83,37,24, and with my heavy pack and fatigue I was in no position to 74,45,64. 30,87,63,65,21,85,99, 62,48,63, 13, 47,49,38,61, 40,8, 28,57,70,79,, 73,47,20,91,76,46,51,

66, 68, 61, 41. 72, 52, 30, 76, 61, 60, wading along stream beds. After a while I saw 85, 24, 38, 48, 12, 6, 79, 17, 94, 5, 87, 45, 9, 82, 69, 23, 70, 64, 53, 90, 89, 45,, 91, 33, 23, 27, 6, 56, 4, 75, 53, 27, 46, 8, 81, 26, 68, 88, 5, 81, 40, 52, 38. I was now fairly sure these must be the 70, 2, 28, 21, 29, 78, 28, 75, 54, 38, 81. 40, 81, 77, 38, 51, 76, 35, 51, 33, 71, 13, 36, 16, 29, 60, 88, 51, 49, 49, 95, 64, 13, 81, 54, 48, 66, 44, 84, 85, 25, 65, 31, 33. I think these people are some of the 81, 99, 58, 83, 14, 40, 73, 40, 86, 47, 32, 80, 76, 32, 84, 37, 98, 20, 49, 46, 68, 7, 32, 1. 61, 63, 85, 80, 53, 30, 40, 49, 49, 64, 54, 70, 26, 74, 48, 69, 67, 15, 54, 29, 79, 87, 20, 74, 87, 19, 44, 69, 65, 43, 63, 78, 63, 21, 11, 22, 45, 60, 44, 65, 59, 86, 55, 98, 38, 76, 50. MAY 4

After a while I heard the first 57, 61, 66, 6, 61, 28, 37, 39, 6, 41, 10, 8, 16, 8, 13, 75, 91, 39, 40, 47, 3, 62, 79. 49, 24, 98, 49, 49, 4, 58, 41, 22, 51, 42, 41, 53, 72, 80, 44, 12, 90. After a short interval it ran back to where 73, 13, 86, 80, 13, 83, 16, 63, 42, 39, 41, 56, 67, 32, 55, 44,, and after another interval I heard it 67, 20, 0, 53, 57, 75, 67, 73, 99, 21, 0, 86, 55, 5, 57. 59, 64, 38, 38, 79, 44, 71, 45, 96, 89, 65 in the general direction of the 24, 63, 30, 87, 36, 55, 92, 68, 74, 15, 79, 58. I waited a while longer, and, all being quiet, I loaded up my pack and moved out. I was more successful than I'd expected (though not completely so) in being 24, 63, 87, 24, 61, 65, 46, 56, 0, 79, 63, 2, 99, 73, 85, 89,,

67, 30, 17, 30, 62, 11, 46. After some hard work getting through that stuff, I went down to a favorite campsite of mine, near where 35, 1, 84, 93, 42, 80, 57, 67, 37, 13, 72, 71, 30, 67, 68. Here I found the peace I wanted. But next day I went home because I was 10, 66, 75, 62, 63, 15, 34, 37, 70, 32,, 72, 64, 98, 74, 48, 10, 81, 37, 11, 49, 83, 64, 88, 35, 73, 23, 15, 39, 12, 69, 37, 63, 57, 17, 92, 74, 62, 49, 43, 32, 42, 27.

I was particularly pleased with myself after this incident, for 2 reasons. For one thing, it was a very 82, 2, 37, 55, 54, 40, 51, 42, 63, 88, 24, 53, 11, 84, 54, 39, 64, 76, 86, 0, 65, 50, 67, 35, 26, 77, 45. 91, 66, 54, 74, 51, 33, 82, 32, 73, 30, 79, 37, 53, 47, 54, 77, 19, 70, 29, 5, 67, 83, 25, 27, 65, 31, 8; 46, 46, 92, 42, 17,

After complicated preparations I succeeded in 11, 39, 3, 58, 5, 3, 34, 6, 5, 46, 79, 14, 64, 44, 95, 85, 19, 88, 81, 63, 44, 61, 26, 73, 17, 68, 37, 90, 31, 70, 63, 99, 83, 28, 7, 59, 20, 37, 6, 46, 87; 38, 29, 57, 40, 61, 59, 50, 34, 45, 54, 49, 71, 66, 21, 89, directly and indirectly are responsible for the 82, 29, 53. 13, 27, 56, 55, 85, 55, 10, 40, 10, 49, 45, 8, 84, long delayed, vaguely directed, and inadequate 12, 66, 2, 23, 91, 13, 66, 55, 8, 37, 36, 64. Sept. 23, 1980: Yesterday I got back from a 5-day excursion in mostly wet, drizzly or rainy weather. Generally slept cold at night. At the age of 38, I should be well over the hill physically, liners made from the remains of my old worn-out sleeping bag that I saved. In moderate temperatures they could also be used without the liners, the fur alone then serving as insulation. All my other mittens are quite worn out, except for the down-filled ones that I bought in early 1973. These I've used only in very cold weather and never for rough work, because they were expensive ($16.00). So that I can continue to preserve these, I made the rockchuck mittens for every-day use.

Nov. 14. I have just re-read, for I suppose the 4th or 5th time, Joseph Wood Krutch's "The Desert Year". I admire this book. To me, the first chapter, "Why I came", is a most wonderful piece of writing. It goes right to my heart.

25, 27, 65, 31, 3, 46, 46, 72, 46, 11,

Jan. 3, 1981. Very mild winter so far — hardly any snow on the ground. A few days ago there was enough of a thaw so that it was possible to dig roots, and I made a little discovery that will be useful if confirmed by later experience: Dandelion roots are much more tender and starch-filled when dug at this time of year than they are when dug in the spring, at which time the plants have already started to grow. Next year I expect I'll dig some dandelion roots in late autumn before the ground freezes.

Wild country is still best, but now I am more willing to take what good things I can get from life even when I can't isolate myself from the system nearly as much as I'd like. This change of attitude is

Jan. 21. Having chiseled and ground the surface of my flat stone to make it more efficient for grinding seeds, I am now adding a heaping tablespoonful of meal made by grinding pennycress seeds to each of my cakes of bread — the pennycress meal being substituted for an equal amount of whole-wheat flour. I am short on whole-wheat flour, which I need for roughage to keep my guts acting right, so that the equally rough pennycress meal is useful in stretching my supply. It makes a dark-brown bread of very good flavor, with a mustardy bite to it, pennycress being related to mustard. When my pennycress seeds are used up, I expect to try Chenopodium album seeds, of which I also have a modest supply.

I wish I could describe how joyous it is to get up early in the morning, take the rifle under the arm, and go out to range over the hills. But I must admit that the rifle has been doing but little business this winter, because there's been so little snow. Since about early November I've only shot 11 rabbits and one squirrel and trapped one squirrel. A project I have in hand has obliged me to go to Lincoln a few times, and I've brought back a little canned fish, but it isn't really enough, so I've been getting rather meat-hungry in between the few snowfalls when I've been able to get rabbits.

sociedad moderna. Este trozo es, ¿Existe la felicidad para la mujer que trabajo?, escrito por Roberto Arlt, páginas 54 – 56. Pareció primero en Nuevas aguafuertes porteñas, de Roberto Arlt.

El segundo trozo: (página 37; pareció primero en «La Ciudad de un hombre» de Leonidas Barletta.) — ¡Mirá que es linda nuestra ciudad! ¡Con estos tipos [guys] que no creen en nada! ¡Y no respetan nada, ni al presidente! Aquí nadie se puede hacer el importante, porque nadie le da importancia. — Y cuando le damos importancia a algo, es para fastidiar al contrario, y por poco tiempo. — [Esto quiero. Es como debe ser.]

July 13: Yesterday evening I happened to locate the nest of a hummingbird. Pues, yo iba a escribir en español, para practicar, pero olvidé. Ayer, un poco antes de la puesta del sol, hallé el nido de un colibrí. Al menos, lo creo. Era un objeto oscuro que estaba alto en un abeto de Douglas, y el colibrí se posó en él repetidas veces, pero no pude ver si era por cierto un nido. No quise trepar el árbol para ver, porque periódico "El Sol de Arizona" ... un periódico impreso en español. En su columna "Mis Apuntes de la Semana" escribe Julio Mancillas: "Otro animal sagrado lo era el oso plateado y el águila, símbolo de la vida libre y de poderío, de tal suerte que los apaches siempre procuraban las plumas de dicha ave, para adornar sus cabezas." Esta frase no es muy clara, pero es evidente que quiere decir Sr. Mancillas que para los apaches el águila era un símbolo de la vida libre. Hace unos años que mencioné en mis notas un caso en el que usó un nómada bereber al águila por símbolo de la vida libre. Y por supuesto nos está muy familiar este simbolismo a nosotros. Parece que varios pueblos reaccionan de la misma manera al águila.

Feb. 7. Yesterday 10° at dawn, fresh snow, went up on ridge to hunt. Got 4 rabbits, all of them pretty far out, away from home. Two of them I found sitting together, about 8 ft. apart. I think this is only the second time I have ever found 2 rabbits in sight of one another. When I shot first of the 2 rabbits it kicked, though not as violently as they usually do; but the other rabbit gave no sign of noticing any thing unusual, and I shot it, too. Beautiful sunshiney day. Some of my hunting was on steep slopes in very open woods in an area where I haven't hunted rabbits before. The 4th rabbit was the one I got closest to home — in the steep thicket by the big rock outcrop low down in the gulch that runs down from next peak east of Baldy. Then I had to climb up onto the ridge from that area in order to go home — an exhausting task, as it is very difficult to get up that slope on snowshoes in winter. When I got up on top of the ridge I lay down in the snow to rest. I could see a large bird sitting in a dead tree on the next ridge over. By and by it took off and began soaring upward in circles on an updraft. It looked so large that it may have been an eagle rather than a hawk — but it's hard to tell at such a distance. I watched, absorbed, as the bird circled higher and higher. It was an entrancing sight. After a while the spell was broken by the noise of a jet plane. But still it was a very good day. There has been a good deal of cold weather this winter. Thermometer read 8° below this morning.

Feb. 9. El frío continúa. Esta mañana dijo el termómetro 15° debajo de cero. But I rather like the cold. Things have been quiet lately and life is joyous. It seems I am more sensitive than even to the attractions of such things as sunlight, open spaces, silence, wind, snow, and even just the interior of the cabin, which after all is my own construction and is part of my way of life here.

Feb. 11 Ayer por la mañana dijo el termómetro cero grados. Se levantó hasta unos 25° por la tarde, pero hoy à la madrugada dijo 2° debajo de cero. Casi todas las mañanas están los alces en los prados de Baldy, comiendo pasto. Hoy vi a los alces cavar en la nieve para alcanzar el pasto. Mi chaquetón forrado con pieles de liebres está todavía de buena condición y me sirve bien por este tiempo frío. Desde febrero 3, el termómetro dijo a las madrugadas: −10°, −21°, −22°, +10°, +10°, −8°, −15°, 0°, −2°. ~~Un tiempo más~~ Un período de frío más largo que lo usual, pero nada muy excepcional, fuera de que las temperaturas de −21° y −22° eran las más bajas que he registrado aquí salvo la de −29½° (−31½) el invierno pasado.

Feb. 14. Ayer cazé aquí en la Barranca Florence. Hallé a una liebre y la pegué con una flecha desde una distancia de quizás seis pies. La flecha penetró a la liebre donde l apunté — a través del cuerpo u poco detras de los hombros. No

cojo. Pues, no me valdría mucho la vida si no tuviera yo bastante salud para estar físicamente activo, y sería más de acuerdo con mis opiniones y mi actitud ante la vida que yo pasara sin esta seguridad y aceptara una muerte temprana si ésta me viniese. March 6. Hace unos pocos días que fuí a obtener berro. Ya que no había tenido legumbres frescas desde hacía tres meses y medio, por lo menos, me gustó mucho el berro. Ayer había sol por la tarde y la temperatura estaba más alta que 32°. Fuí en la cuesta al norte de la cabaña donde la nieve había desaparecido en muchas partes y el suelo estaba deshelado. Encontré una sola cebolla silvestre, la cual también me gustó mucho. La primavera se acerca y al poco tiempo habrá muchas cebollas silvestres. ~~La~~ ~~que~~ No hace mucho frío desde hace unas semanas. Además, no hace mucha nieve; por eso no puedo cazar a las liebres y no tengo ninguna carne desde hace unos pocos días. Pero hoy dí un paseo sobre las cuestas al suroeste de Baldy que dan al sur, donde ha ~~está~~ desaparecido la ~~mayoría~~ mayor parte de la nieve; allí espanté a un grupo de tres o cuatro perdices azules que se detuvieron en árboles cercanos. Maté ados con mi "veinte y dos". Eran hembras. Después de quitarlas las plumas a ellas, fuí más adelante y dí un buen paseo. Como siempre, me parecieron sumamente hermosas las montañas, aunque estaba el cielo cubierto de nubes.

March 9. Ayer había sol y volví a dar paseo sobre las cuestas que están libres de nieve. Pero
